

IELAIZA ELLENSBURG

Application Developer

PROFILE

I am one of the team members and also the team captain of the Sranan Techies (Creative Tech Hub) team, which participates in competitions and represents Suriname. My team and I develop applications with innovative ideas and solutions.

My interest in participating in competitions is driven by my desire to apply and further develop my skills and qualities. Additionally, I see this opportunity as a chance to contribute to the movement toward equal representation of women in the IT sector.

I am currently a student at NATIN MBO, where I am in my fourth year specializing in ICT with a focus on application development.
